Accuraty Solutions

Website Design Opportunity

We're now interviewing for one full-time or two part-time positions:
If you have advanced experience then we will compensate accordingly. If you are newer to the profession and want the experience we will mentor you along with salary.

Job Description
Want to showcase your design talent and gain skills and experience in working on projects for companies of all types, shapes, and sizes? We are searching for a motivated, multifaceted designer who enjoys working in a collaborative environment but is also self directed. This job isn't for the faint of heart, you will need to be able to switch gears quickly to work on multiple projects with multiple clients at any given time. You will be designing for many types of businesses, organizations, and individuals and will be involved from creation to implementation working directly with the clients for success. If you find this type of work enthralling and are ready to accept the challenge, we have the right position for you. If you are an amazing designer looking for full time employment, PTO, and room for growth then we would love to have you impress us!
