As lawn, garden, and agricultural company AHW LLC grew through the years, management saw the importance of strengthening the leadership within the business. The question was how to boost its ability to do so.

“AHW LLC is a growing company,” HR manager Cecilia Miller says about the company, which has been in operation since 1932, has locations in Illinois and Indiana, and prides itself on providing excellent customer service. “We recognized that we needed to develop our current and potential leaders into exceptional leaders. We started with book clubs and realized we needed to take it to the next level and seek expert help.”

Since completing their custom Leading EDGE series through Parkland College’s Community Education, AHW’s management staff hasn’t looked back, confident that the training series will benefit the entire company on all levels.

“The Leading EDGE series is priceless!” Chad Braden, AHW’s president and chief operating officer, says.

“Our goal is to have our employees and future leaders understand the importance of what instructor Steve Welland teaches about DISC, leadership, and culture.”

Roy Johnson, corporate parts manager, agrees, adding that those are just a few of the multiple skills his team has learned. “One of the key takeaways is that people require unique forms of communication to help them perform to their potential,” he says. “Understanding co-workers can increase overall productivity and will, in turn, drive customer trust and satisfaction.”

According to Miller, another factor that led AHW to register for Leading EDGE is its on-site customization and class offerings. She said employees have been able to improve their communication skills with various types of people, which benefits the workplace and fosters personal growth. She recommends Leading EDGE classes to other company managers.

“We always believe we don’t have time to add anything else to our plate, but just go for it!” she says.

INSTRUCTOR SPOTLIGHT Steven Welland

A successful business owner, corporate trainer, and former military officer, Steven Welland is in high demand for his presentation and consulting services. Steven inspires individuals as well as organizations to reach their potential, drive themselves to their unique differences, and operate at their optimal level of performance. He is consistently rated “excellent” as participants learn to maximize productivity, performance, profitability, and opportunity. His many clients include Ameren, Carle Foundation Hospital, Christie Clinic, DuPont, NCSA–UIUC, Regency Multi-Family, and US Army CERL. Steven has been a certified master trainer and corporate trainer for Parkland for more than 20 years, providing high-energy training programs in leadership, customer service, effective communication skills, quality, and team development.
How one company benefited from their Leading EDGE series

“AHW LLC is a growing company. We recognized that we needed to develop our current and potential leaders into exceptional leaders. We started with book clubs and realized we needed to take it to the next level and seek expert help. Instructor Steve Welland offers excellent knowledge on the topic, and his passion for it comes across. I chose the Parkland College Community Education Leadership series for its customization and offering classes on site.”

—Cecilia Miller, HR Manager, AHW LLC, Parkland College Alumna

“We chose the Leading EDGE series at Parkland College Community Education because it is priceless! Our goal is to have our employees and future leaders understand the importance of what instructor Steve Welland teaches about DiSC, leadership, and culture. Steve is a top-notch, engaging instructor and efficient with the class material. Parkland College Community Education is local and has a good reputation.”

—Chad Braden, President and Chief Operating Officer, AHW LLC

“This was my first opportunity to enroll in the Leading EDGE series at Parkland College Community Education. Don’t hesitate to take the classes. One of the key takeaways is that people require unique forms of communication to help them perform to their potential. Understanding coworkers can increase overall productivity and will, in turn, drive customer trust and satisfaction. Win–win! Instructor Steve Welland is straightforward and honest, and he expects students to be open about their communication skills and needs.”

—Roy E. Johnson, Corporate Parts Manager, AHW LLC

Barn Quilt Painting Workshop
No barn? No problem! Join the barn quilt movement by creating your own painted quilt block for beautiful décor you can use on the inside or outside of your home. A variety of colors will be available to choose from at the start of class. You’ll begin with a pre-primed board and move through each step—drafting, taping, and painting—with careful attention to detail. Once the painting begins, you’ll work at your own pace. Instructor Jane Cade will discuss how to properly seal your finished piece after the paint has dried for 48 hours. Leave with a 20-by-20-inch quilt block to keep for yourself or share your talents and give someone the perfect gift!
Several paint color palettes will be available to choose from. Paint is $2 per color. Typically, four colors are needed. Cash or credit card payment will need to be made to instructor at the start of class. Please bring a 12-inch ruler or yardstick and hairdryer.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT
Amanda Wittig

When I was 18 and started working toward my bachelor’s degree, I knew what I was interested in but not necessarily how I wanted to apply it to my future career. I graduated with that degree still not knowing exactly what I wanted to be “when I grew up.” When I found a job that fulfilled me, I wanted to learn more about the field to grow and advance. My employer offered a class through Parkland to get me started on that path. Throughout my adult life, and all the changes that came with that, Parkland has had so many options—from things to advance me in my career to hobbies I can explore with people I care about—offered in various formats that I can work into my life. They offer relatable and engaging instruction by people with hands-on experience in their areas of expertise. The person I am today knows I want to be a forever learner, finding things that make my heart sing and my mind tick. Parkland makes it possible.
Everyone Communicates, Few Connect

In today’s fast-paced world, the ability to connect with others is a vital skill for success. If you want to enhance your relationships, reduce conflicts, and achieve greater productivity, this course is for you. Trauma & Growth: Accessing the Survival Trait of Hope

Trauma can show up in everyday life as negative thinking about ourselves and the world. Trauma can also prompt us to stop striving for the future, stop taking risks, and stop engaging in vulnerability, which affects our connection with ourselves and others. But what qualifies as trauma? It is anything that causes us emotional or physical pain and leaves us different than we were before the events. This leaves us with life-coping mechanisms that are no longer effective, making us feel overwhelmed and with a more negative view of self and the world. By this definition, we all have some trauma. In this eight-week series, the instructor’s goal is to teach strategies and tools to assist you in tapping into your self-agency by becoming aware of the following:

- Your past traumas and how you have been affected
- Your autonomic nervous system’s state and self-regulation
- How to access hope for the future

The instructor will also discuss concepts such as negativity bias, fear circuitry, and shame. All tools and strategies taught are evidence-based practices.

In Illinois, this course qualifies for continuing education for the following professions: LSW, LCSW, PEL, LPC, LCPC, LMFT, RN, LPN, APN, LCP.

NOTE: This is a class, not therapy. We encourage discussion but cannot provide one-on-one attention. Because of the class content, it may be uncomfortable, emotional, or triggering.

Required textbooks, not included: Trauma: The Invisible Epidemic by Paul Conti, MD (~$16); One Small Step Can Change Your Life: The Kaizen Way by Robert Maurer, PhD (~$8).

Project Management Bundle (For Nonprofessional Project Managers) $255
Not a project manager by title, but find yourself managing projects? No problem! Learn about the foundations of project management—not as a profession but as a set of techniques you can tailor to your projects. You’ll start with a basic overview class and then dive deeper every two weeks into a new workshop with tips and information to take your project management skills to the next level. While this series provides valuable information, it does not count toward PMP certification, nor is it considered in the PMP application process. Register for all five and SAVE!

Project Management: An Overview
Learn about the foundations of project management not as a profession but as a set of techniques you can tailor to your projects. You’ll go over the broad strokes of the project management lifecycle: initiation, planning, execution, monitoring and controlling, and closing. The goal will be to provide an overview of project management that will improve your project predictability, communications, and outcomes. You will focus on waterfall methodologies; elements of agile methodology will also be covered. Training will touch on these aspects:
- Project processes
- Creating project goals and deliverables (and metrics for success)
- Identifying and establishing the full scope of the project work
- Identifying project participants, roles, and responsibilities
- How work will be accomplished, who will perform the work, and when
- How work is managed and controlled, and what happens if adjustments or changes to the project need to be made
- How to know when a project is complete and how to know if it was successful

1/9 Tue 8 AM–12 PM Class ID: 15447
Deadline: 1/2 Location: CE $100

Stakeholders and Requirements
Who’s responsible for this? Ensure your project’s success by having the right people involved from the start. Learn how to identify key stakeholders so requirements are known and everyone can fully understand expectations and their responsibilities to the project. Class will build off and reference information presented in Project Management: An Overview.

1/23 Tue 12–1:30 PM Class ID: 15448
Deadline: 1/16 Location: CE $50

Work Breakdown Structure
You’ve determined all the major deliverables and milestones. Where do you go from there? Discover how to deconstruct and organize project deliverables into manageable groups and understand how to see a project and all its details, also known as a work breakdown structure. This is a way to turn a mountain of work into more manageable tasks that can be assigned to resources. The results are a complete list of defined work that encompasses the full scope of your project. Class will build off and reference information presented in Project Management: An Overview.

2/6 Tue 12–1:30 PM Class ID: 15449
Deadline: 1/30 Location: CE $50

Risks and Issues
What could go wrong? In a project, a lot! There are always risks, and eventually issues, within every project—some small and some catastrophic. Gain an understanding of how to anticipate, evaluate, and manage risks, issues, and assumptions throughout a project. Class will build off and reference information presented in Project Management: An Overview.

2/20 Tue 12–1:30 PM Class ID: 15450
Deadline: 2/13 Location: CE $50

Project Management: Lessons Learned
The project work is done. Now what? The whole point of a project is to complete it, but that’s not the end. Before formally closing a project, you need to step back to review progress and processes along the way to be sure they are still meeting the needs of the stakeholders, the project, and the organization. Feel confident asking what went well and what could have gone better. Learn how to foster an environment within your team where stakeholders feel confident sharing observations, suggestions, and potential changes for improvement. Find out how including this process can lead to better project experiences and more successful outcomes in the future. Class will build off and reference information presented in Project Management: An Overview.

3/5 Tue 12–1:30 PM Class ID: 15451

Forklift Train the Trainer
As of December 1, 1999, all authorized powered industrial truck operators are required to complete powered industrial truck safety training. Parkland College partners with Grey and Associates safety instructors, who are experienced powered industrial truck operators and instructors. Our adult training classroom instruction, drivers’ observations, and testing process will enable your operators to become better trainers. You will participate in the following activities:

• Developing a company training program
• Understanding OSHA regulations
• Understanding ANSI standards
• Demonstrating equipment features and operations
• Center of gravity
• Stability factors
• Load center
• Fulcrum point
• ID plate
• Load capacity
• Accident statistics

By the end of training, you will demonstrate these abilities:

• Present materials
• Initiate driver tests and evaluations
• Identify hazards and safely handle materials in your facility
• Use testing applications and navigate requirements
• Manage operator observation skills

RCRA Hazardous Waste Management
The Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) requires initial training and then annual training in accordance with 40 CFR 262.34(a) (4) incorporating 40 CFR 265.16. Hazardous waste workers are required to become familiar with proper hazardous waste management and emergency procedures. Additional regulations require training for universal waste handling procedures. This RCRA regulatory course provides a pragmatic approach to hazardous waste, universal waste, and used-oil management. The training covers these aspects:

• Hazardous waste regulatory program
• Definition of solid waste
• Hazardous waste determinations
• Generator classification
• Hazardous waste management standards for containers and tanks
• Satellite accumulation standards
• Preparedness and prevention
• Contingency planning
• Personnel training
• Recordkeeping
• Land disposal restrictions
• Manifesting
• E-manifesting updates
• Generator improvements and pharma rules

Entry-Level Driver Training (ELDT) for Hazardous Materials

Hazardous materials transport is a specialized driver credential that can result in more opportunities and higher driver pay. This course was created in collaboration with an approved training provider listed on Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA)’s Training Provider Registry (TPR). The CDL hazmat test course is for commercial motor vehicle drivers seeking a hazardous materials (H) endorsement to their commercial driver’s license (CDL). The hazmat endorsement is required for becoming a hazmat driver so that you can haul certain types of specialized freight. If you seek an endorsement such as this, you must complete this curriculum to take the state-administered knowledge test for the H endorsement. You must complete the hazmat theory course to take the state Hazmat Endorsement Knowledge Exam, which is usually administered at the state motor vehicle office. Upon completion of this hazmat endorsement training course, your completion record will be uploaded to the US Department of Transportation’s (DOT) TPR, and you can take your state’s hazmat knowledge test. Those who pass the knowledge test can be issued an H endorsement.

In addition to ELDT for Hazardous Materials training, the Illinois Secretary of State’s office adheres to the federally mandated fingerprinting and background records check requirement for obtaining a hazardous materials endorsement established by the Transportation Security Administration (TSA).

Please visit ilsos.gov for more information about fingerprinting and background checks. There are no refunds for this course. This course is excluded from standard refund policies.

Truck Driving

Train to earn your commercial driver’s license and prepare for a career in the trucking industry. More than 300,000 truck driving jobs are now available in the United States. Entry-level truck drivers have the potential to earn $48,000 to $72,000 annually. This course is for those with little or no commercial driving experience. Learn and understand everything you need to earn a CDL. Earn your CDL learner’s permit after the first week of class as you learn DOT rules, regulations, and logbook requirements. The remaining weeks are focused on behind-the-wheel driver training. The total program is 160 hours. Our team works with trucking industry partners to assist you with job placement.

Classes start every month. Course fees include your physical, drug screening, permit, and Secretary of State test. Funding opportunities from Support for Workforce Training (SWFT), 217/531-2150, parkland.edu/SWFT, or Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), 217/531-8282.

UAS Certification Exam Prep

Get licensed to fly drones commercially! Take your business to new heights and discover new opportunities through commercial drone use. Drones’ safety, efficiency, and cost benefits make them increasingly attractive for a range of business and government functions: marketing, agriculture, real estate, media, special events, and inspections. The Federal Aviation Administration requires drone operators to pass a UAS (unmanned aerial system) aeronautical knowledge test in order to fly drones commercially. Discover what UAS operators need to know about regulations, airspace, weather, and more.

For an additional $175, you may also register to take the FAA certification written exam. Instructions on registering for the FAA exam will be emailed approximately two weeks before the class start. At that time, exam registration will open on a first-come, first-served basis.

Fiber Optics Technician  $3,085
In partnership with BDI DataLynk, we offer three individual courses that teach the necessary skills to build, test, troubleshoot, install, and repair fiber optic networks and prepare you to take the CFOT (Certified Fiber Optics Technician) exam, the CFOS/T (Certified Fiber Optics Testing & Maintenance Specialist) exam, and the CFOS/S (Certified Fiber Optics Splicing Specialist) exam. All training course exams are given and graded on the final day of class. You will receive a certificate of completion upon successful completion of the program. The format of the course involves chapter tests, class discussions, and hands-on activities and exercises.

Certified Fiber Optics Technician (CFOT)
Recognized by the US Department of Labor and sanctioned by the Fiber Optic Association (FOA), this introductory course is for anyone interested in learning basic fiber optic networking and becoming certified. Through a combination of theory and hands-on activities, you’ll be prepared to take the CFOT exam, given and graded on the final day of class. You will be introduced to industry standards governing fiber to the desk (FTTD), fiber to the home (FTTH), LAN/WAN fiber networks, and basic fusion and mechanical splicing. You will learn how to identify fiber types, recognize various connectors used in fiber installation, and install, terminate, splice, and properly test installed fiber cables. Explore the history and future of fiber optics, fiber optic capabilities, and installation cost. Standards covered are NECA/FOA-301-2004, EIA/TIA 568–B.3, ANSI/TIA/EIA 607–A, and NEC Article 770–50.

Certified Fiber Optics Testing & Maintenance Specialist (CFOS/T)
Discover a general, easy-to-understand approach to fiber optics testing standards with little theory and many hands-on activities. Decipher the variety of testing standards, equipment, and technological techniques used in fiber network testing and splicing and how to choose among them. Explore the overall spectrum of testing and maintenance of single-mode and multimode fiber optics networks in this hands-on class that provides a detailed overview and demonstration of various types of equipment used in testing and maintenance. Topics include a detailed study of ANSI/TIA/EIA-526–14(7)A, OTDR fundamentals and uses, OTDR versus insertion loss testing, return loss testing, and attenuation testing using the power source and light meter. Prerequisite: Within the preceding 12 months, you MUST have passed the basic fiber optics training or CFOT exam or renewed your FOA membership before attending CFOS/T and CFOS/S courses. There are no exceptions.

Certified Fiber Optics Specialist in Splicing (CFOS/S)
This eight-hour advanced specialist fiber optic training includes an in-depth presentation explaining the importance of high-performance splicing and details the points necessary for achieving these splices. An overview of OTDR functions and trace understanding is also provided. You will receive training in both fusion and mechanical splicing of either single-mode or multimode fiber optic cables in hands-on activities. Inside or outside plant fiber optic cable types may be used along with fiber optic enclosures and splice trays. You will be responsible for making and testing mechanical and fusion splices. In addition, you will be required to efficiently install spliced fibers into splice trays and enclosures. You will also be required to achieve a splice loss of less than 0.15 dB for all splices and demonstrate proficiency in interpreting splice loss using OTDR splice traces. Prerequisite: Within the preceding 12 months, you MUST have passed the basic fiber optics training or CFOT exam or renewed your FOA membership before attending CFOS/T and CFOS/S courses. There are no exceptions.

Mental Health First Aid for Adults
One in five American adults experiences a mental health disorder in a year, and almost half of all American adults will experience a mental illness during their lifetime. Mental Health First Aid for Adults teaches how to recognize signs of mental health or substance use challenges in adults ages 18 and older, offer and provide initial help, and guide a person toward appropriate care if necessary. Topics covered include anxiety, depression, psychosis, and addictions. You will learn how to address common mental health concerns encountered by adults; reduce stigmas about mental health; learn strategies to help family members, friends, and peers recognize the signs and symptoms of mental health and substance use challenges; and use self-help strategies for staying mentally well.
This is a blended learning course. You must complete a two-hour self-paced online course before participating in the five-hour instructor-led training in person. Instructions for accessing the online course will be emailed.

William M. Staerkel Planetarium

The William M. Staerkel Planetarium is the second-largest planetarium in Illinois. The Digistar 6 planetarium projection system transforms the 50-foot dome ceiling into an immersive virtual environment.

The planetarium hosts numerous shows, programs, and special events. Call our show hotline at 217/351-2446 or visit parkland.edu/planetarium.

- Open weekdays for school and civic groups. Virtual shows and Spanish-language shows available. Reservations required.
- Public presentations on Fridays and Saturdays at 7 and 8 pm. Tickets are $7–$8 at the door.
- Join the Friends of the Staerkel Planetarium (FOSP) and see FREE shows for a year.
- Teachers, book your field trip with us! Find a complete list of school programs by grade level, plus activities for before or after your visit, including links to the NGSS. Call the office at 217/351-2568 to set up your field trip!
- Book a unique rental space for birthday parties, weddings, and other private events under the stars.
- Join the Galaxy Club: Kids get a stamp card and begin to earn free admission to a show.
- Rent-a-Scope: 10-inch Dobsonian telescopes. $10 per night or $15 per weekend.
- Get your astro news: northern lights, eclipses, and meteor showers, plus be the first to hear of upcoming programs at the planetarium. Subscribe to our email list.

Sensory-Friendly Matinées
The Staerkel Planetarium offers programs with sensory-friendly settings on January 27, February 3, and March 23. Sensory-friendly shows have “lights up, sound down” settings and a relaxed atmosphere where patrons can come, go, and move around as needed. Sensory-friendly shows are great for young children and guests with autism spectrum disorder and sensory sensitivities.

James B. Kaler Science Lecture Series
Mainstream science from the laboratory to you. On the first Friday of each month that school is in session, the planetarium welcomes a scientist from the community into the dome to share their expertise. Past topics include geothermal energy, entomology, and fish behavior. Visit parkland.edu/planetarium for schedule. All talks are at 7 pm and tickets are $2 at the door.

- February 2: Martin Burke, Imagine a World Where Everyone Can Make Molecules
- February 23: Jeff Bryant, Birds: It’s Not About What, But Where
- April 5: Andrew Pritchard, Chasing Tornadoes: It’s Not What You Think

Dark Side of the Moon in the Dome!
The sounds of Pink Floyd albums ring in the dome again, but these aren’t our old light shows and they aren’t laser shows. Enjoy these full-dome shows from Starlight Productions on the first Friday of each month at 9 pm and on March 23 at 6 pm. Please note that these shows aren’t for those with motion sickness! Tickets are $12 at the door.

See the Real Sky
Join members of the C-U Astronomical Society at their rural observatory for a peek at the real sky. See the stars and planets through the many telescopes on site. All observing events are weather permitting.

- March 16, April 13, and May 11 after sunset
- Location: CUAS Observatory, County Road 700E, south of Monticello Road, southwest of Champaign. Visit cuas.org for directions.

7 WAIVER AND RELEASE (REQUIRED)

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Parkland College holds the safety of its students in high regard and is committed to conducting Community Education courses in a safe manner. Parkland College continually strives to reduce such risks and insists that all students follow safety rules and instructions that are designed to ensure everyone’s safety. However, students must recognize that there is an inherent risk of injury when choosing to participate.

WARNING OF RISK

Community Education courses are intended to challenge and engage the student. Depending on the particular activity, students must understand that certain inherent risks always exist. Despite careful and proper preparation of instructors, there is still a risk when participating in courses. In this regard, it must be recognized that it is impossible for Parkland College to guarantee absolute safety.

WAIVER AND RELEASE OF ALL CLAIMS AND ASSUMPTION OF RISK

I understand that there may be certain risks of physical injury, damage or loss which I and/or my dependents may sustain as a result of participating in any and all activities associated with Parkland College courses offered by Community Education. In registering and participating in these courses, I expressly assume the risk and legal liability, waiving and releasing all claims for risk connected with said courses. Furthermore, I grant Parkland College and PCTV permission to record and/or photograph myself or my dependents for future promotion. In addition, I understand that there will be no refunds for classes canceled due to severe weather conditions, power outages, or situations that may affect the safety of the program or Parkland College.

I have read and understand the above important information, warning of risk, and waiver and release of all claims and assumption of risk.

Participant’s name (PLEASE PRINT)

Signature of adult participant or parent/guardian (if participant is under 18 years old) Date ____________

Participation may be denied if the signature of adult participant or parent/guardian and date are not on this waiver.
