searching for serendipity

One might suspect that, after 30 years of building an award-winning, critically acclaimed photography career documenting the layered, subtle beauty of the prairie, it would be easy—maybe even reasonable—to settle artistically. To become comfortable in one form of creative expression.

But Larry Kanfer never would have become the “pre-eminent photographer of Midwestern prairiescapes” if he stayed comfortable.

“Throughout my career, I try to push the envelope on my art, and I try to keep myself invigorated by learning new techniques,” he remarks. “Trying something new can open a new world of possibilities for you. I think of it as an opportunity for serendipity and unintended outcomes.”

Driven by what he calls an insatiable need “to discover the unknown and serendipity, focus on the magnificence around us, and help others appreciate it, too,” Larry was excited to discover the wide range of Community Education craft classes available at Parkland College.

“In a community of this size, it’s great that we have such a robust set of offerings through Parkland’s Community Education programming,” he says.

Since starting with a jewelry-making class, Larry has taken full advantage of these classes, eventually working through a drone course (“to see from a different perspective”) and then, most recently, welding. He explains the jump from jewelry making to welding.

“During my jewelry class at Parkland, I made some pieces that I thought of as small sculptural elements,” he says. “I was inspired to learn about different materials and think about how these sculptural concepts I was working on could be applied to larger pieces. I liked working with different material in the welding class and on a bigger scale. It was great! In a short period of time, we learned the basics of welding, enough to give me a taste of what’s possible.”

Larry also appreciates the convenience of the classes being outside of typical business hours.

“Although he found welding challenging, being more removed from the tactile experience of working in other materials, Larry still has enjoyed moments of the serendipity he seeks in each new class. “Trying something new gives you an opportunity to rise to and conquer a new challenge. It gives you a sense of accomplishment.”

For those just beginning their artistic journeys, Larry advises patience: “Everyone starts at the beginning, and you may not see instant results,” he says. “But if you stick with it, work hard for it, be honest with yourself, and accept constructive criticism, you’ll accomplish your goals.”
Kenton Northen graduated from Parkland College with an associate’s degree in industrial technology and is now a senior lab mechanic in the University of Illinois’ School of Chemical Sciences. He lives in Monticello with his wife and daughter.
Family Fun: Learn to Paint Together, ages 6–10

Introduction to CNC Router

The CNC router is a 21st-century woodworking machine, used to cut parts, carve decorative details, make signs, and produce 3D relief carvings. CNC machines are becoming increasingly popular with woodworking hobbyists, artists, and crafters in home shops and makerspaces. But they do require special software to operate. Local CNC woodworker Allan Tuchman will teach the popular VCarve Pro software you need to operate any CNC router. Design a project and then, by an arranged session, be trained in the safety and operation of the CNC router as you create your project on an actual CNC machine. Prerequisite: Comfort working with Windows PCs and using a computer mouse. Experience with design, graphics, or photo editing software is helpful. An additional two-hour session will be arranged at your convenience to complete your CNC router project at Champaign Woodworkers Club.

Halloween History: Witch Trial Series

$40

An old woman with a face full of warts, a pointy hat on her head flying on a broomstick might be what we think of witches today. However, in real life, the people branded as witches were almost always innocent everyday people. Guided by superstitions and decisions based on wild prejudices, townsfolk put witches on trial and blamed them for the terrible things happening within a community. Religious extremism began to grow during the 14th to 17th centuries, adding fuel to the fire. Join Abigail Padfield Narayan as she explores and compares witch trials in both Europe and America. Register for both and SAVE!

European Witch Trials

From the 14th to 17th century, a wave of persecution washed across parts of Europe. Tens of thousands of people were executed for witchcraft. Examine the belief system of the time period and how it affected decisions. Compare trials from France, England, and Germany and discover the bizarre and barbaric tests the accused would suffer through to determine their fate.

American Witch Trials

While Salem is the most famous of the American witch trials, witch trials were happening from Virginia to New Mexico before Salem. Life was bleak for colonial settlers: there was hunger, cold, and the frequent fatal epidemic. They had to blame someone for these misfortunes. Learn the stories behind some of the less famous American witch trials as you compare circumstances between them.

New Zealand
Take part in this friendship journey that began in 1967 when two school girls were linked as international pen pals, one from Ivesdale, Illinois, and the other from across the globe in Christchurch, New Zealand. After 50 years of correspondence, the two met up on the South Island of New Zealand. Join in their adventure as you step out onto the Tasman Glacier in the Southern Alps, cruise through breathtaking Milford Sound, wind through pastoral hillsides dotted with sheep, and learn about the island nation’s elusive and peculiar icon, the Kiwi. Apart from its superlative beauty, New Zealand is no stranger to earthquakes which forever alter geography, cities, and lives. Hear harrowing and resilient experiences from our Kiwi pen pal in the aftermath of three earthquakes: the Christchurch quakes of 2010 and 2011 and the Kaikoura quake of 2016.

How to Get Sh*t Done: Book Group

Ladies, if we’re not climbing the corporate ladder, building our side hustle, preparing home-cooked meals, tucking the kids in at night, meditating daily, and scheduling playdates, date nights, and girls’ nights every week, we feel like we’re not living our best lives. Traditional productivity books barely touch the tangle of cultural pressures women feel when facing a to-do list. Using the book How to Get Sh*t Done by Erin Falconer, you will explore a whole new approach to modern productivity. Even the most perfectionistic among us can tap into our inner free spirit and learn to feel like badasses rather than drudges. Do less—a lot less. In fact, How to Get Sh*t Done will show you how to zero in on the three areas of your life in which you want to excel and how to off-load, outsource, or just stop giving a damn about the rest. The book is packed with dozens of actionable resources and activities to forever reframe your productivity.

INSTRUCTOR SPOTLIGHT
Dr. Howard Brown

Dr. Howard Brown is currently the manager of agronomic information and environmental stewardship for Illini FS. Illini FS provides farm inputs and agronomic services for Champaign, Clark, Douglas, Edgar, and Vermilion counties in east central Illinois. Brown promotes nutrient stewardship among Illini FS producers and farm organizations by providing a new approach to nutrient management fondly called a “focus on MOM” and works with environmental groups to demonstrate agriculture’s commitment to resource stewardship. He has helped many students prepare for the Certified Crop Adviser exams by teaching the basics of applied agronomy.

Brown has served as an adjunct assistant professor at the University of Illinois for 18 years instructing courses such as Soil Fertility in Cropping Systems and Nutrient Management and Environmental Stewardship in the off-campus master’s degree program. Brown is a past chair of the International Certified Crop Adviser Board and serves on many other advisory groups and committees involved in agriculture production and nutrient stewardship.

CPR FAQs

How soon should I register for a CPR course? Classes fill fast! Your program deadline will affect your certification needs. Please contact your program manager for the deadline. If you choose to complete the hybrid class, your online certificate of completion is valid for only 60 days. You must complete the hands-on skills portion within 60 days.

How long is my CPR card valid? Your card is valid for two years.

Do I need a book? Yes. Textbooks are an integral part of the instructor-led CPR education before, during, and after the course. You may reuse your textbook during renewals or updates until new science guidelines are published.

When will I receive my CPR Card? It typically takes two to three weeks to process. Your instructor will issue you a temporary card upon successful completion of the course.

UAS Certification Exam Prep

Get licensed to fly drones commercially! Take your business to new heights and discover new opportunities through commercial drone use. The safety, efficiency, and cost benefits of drones make them increasingly attractive for a range of business and government functions: marketing, agriculture, real estate, media, special events, and inspections. The Federal Aviation Administration requires drone operators to pass a UAS (unmanned aerial system) aeronautical knowledge test in order to fly drones commercially. Discover what UAS operators need to know about regulations, airspace, weather, and more.

For an additional $160, you may also register to take the FAA certification written exam. Instructions for registering for the FAA exam will be sent approximately three weeks prior to the start of the class.

Register by Nov 14 to receive a $30 discount.

- Join Friends of Staerkel Planetarium (FOSP) and see FREE shows for a year.
- Teachers: Book your field trip with us! Find a complete list of school programs by grade level, plus activities for before/after your visit, including links to the NGSS. Call the office at 217/351-2568 or use our Microsoft Bookings form.
- Book a unique rental space. A birthday party package under the stars!
- Join the Galaxy Club: Kids get a stamp card and begin to earn free admission to a show plus our quarterly newsletter.
- Rent-a-Scope: 10-inch Dobsonian telescopes for $10 for one night or $15 for a weekend.
- Get your astro news: Northern lights, eclipses, and meteor showers, plus be the first to hear of upcoming programs at the planetarium. Subscribe to our electronic mailing list.

James B. Kaler Science Lecture Series

Mainstream science from the laboratory to you. On the first Friday of each month that school is in session, the planetarium welcomes a scientist from the community into the dome to share his or her expertise. Past topics include nuclear power, microbiology, climatology, and birdwatching. Visit parkland.edu/planetarium for schedule. All talks are at 6:30 pm and tickets are $2 at the door. Beginning October 1!

See the Real Sky

Join members of the Champaign–Urbana Astronomical Society at their rural Prairie Winds Observatory for a peek at the real sky. See the stars and planets through the dome’s 16-inch telescope, look through the telescopes in the building with a roll-off roof. Observing events may be canceled due to weather and presentations will be offered through Zoom instead.

October 9, 7 pm
Location: CUAS Prairie Winds Observatory, County Road 700E, south of Monticello Road, southwest of Champaign. Visit cuas.org for directions or for links to the Zoom meetings.

She Kills Monsters
By Qui Nguyen
Directed by Michael O’Brien
Revised 2016 Edition
She Kills Monsters tells the story of Agnes Evans as she leaves her childhood home in Ohio following the death of her teenage sister, Tilly. When Agnes finds Tilly’s Dungeons and Dragons notebook, however, she finds herself catapulted into a journey of discovery and action-packed adventure in the imaginary world that was her sister’s refuge. In this high-octane dramatic comedy laden with homicidal fairies, nasty ogres, and ‘90s pop culture, acclaimed playwright Qui Nguyen offers a heart-pounding homage to the geek and warrior within us all.
Rating: Teen
Performances:
   November 4, 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, and 14
Parkland College Second Stage
Tickets:
   Adult $20, Student/Youth/Senior/Veteran $18, Group (10 or more) $16.
   Opening night is half-price night.

7 WAIVER AND RELEASE (REQUIRED)

IMPORTANT INFORMATION
Parkland College holds the safety of its students in high regard and is committed to conducting Community Education courses in a safe manner. Parkland College continually strives to reduce such risks and insists that all students follow safety rules and instructions that are designed to ensure everyone’s safety. However, students must recognize that there is an inherent risk of injury when choosing to participate.

WARNING OF RISK
Community Education courses are intended to challenge and engage the student. Depending on the particular activity, students must understand that certain inherent risks always exist. Despite careful and proper preparation of instructors, there is still a risk when participating in courses. In this regard, it must be recognized that it is impossible for Parkland College to guarantee absolute safety.

WAIVER AND RELEASE OF ALL CLAIMS AND ASSUMPTION OF RISK

I understand that there may be certain risks of physical injury, damage or loss which I and/or my dependents may sustain as a result of participating in any and all activities associated with Parkland College courses offered by Community Education. In registering and participating in these courses, I expressly assume the risk and legal liability, waiving and releasing all claims for risk connected with said courses. Furthermore, I grant Parkland College and PCTV permission to record and/or photograph myself or my dependents for future promotion. In addition, I understand that there will be no refunds for classes canceled due to severe weather conditions, power outages, or situations that may affect the safety of the program or Parkland College.

I have read and understand the above important information, warning of risk, and waiver and release of all claims and assumption of risk.

Spanning for over a decade, Parkland College continues to be the number one resource for our training and education needs. When others have offered methodical training programs, the team at Parkland seeks to gain an in-depth understanding of our goals and is always willing to tailor their approach to achieve them. We have witnessed this in many areas including CPR/AED, Active Shooter, Team Building, and Maintenance/HVAC to name a few. There is no doubt that the business training and education opportunities made available through Parkland have supported the professional development of our staff and our business. – Nathan Willard, JSM, human resources manager introduction to home inspection
