Commencement Speaker

SETH FEIN
Event Curator and Publisher

Seth Fein is founder and producer of the area's annual multidisciplinary event called PYGMALION, celebrating its 15th year in 2019. He is co-creator and publisher of Smile Politely, an online magazine devoted to the culture of life in the sister cities, published since 2007. Additionally, since founding The Nicodemus Agency in 2002, he has represented 65+ artists, booked hundreds of North American tours, and locally, has presented nearly 1,500 concerts featuring over 5,000 performers. Starting this year, he will co-chair the newly formed Foundation for Innovation in the Performing Arts (FIPA), a not-for-profit organization dedicated to funding and perpetuating live performing arts and more in Champaign County.

Raised in Urbana, Seth attended public school his entire academic career. After transferring from Parkland College to the University of Illinois in 2000, he graduated with his BA in Rhetoric in 2002. He lives in Champaign with his wife, Justine Bursoni, and their two sons, Ellis and Ira. Seth's interests include urban campfire hangs, Abrahamic theology, Big Ten basketball, learning to speak Spanish with his children, political disagreement, and reminding people that their lives are important and that we are not limited to one identity, profession, or purpose. As he once stated, "Indeed, we are deeply versatile and flexible beings, capable of as much as we choose to pursue."

Distinguished Alumnus Award Recipient

BRAD EVANS

Known as "The Big Noise," journalist Brad Evans is a resident fantasy football, NFL Draft, college basketball, and betting analyst for Yahoo Sports. He is a regularly featured analyst on the Emmy-nominated "Yahoo's Fantasy Football Live," which has won numerous Video of the Year Awards from both the Fantasy Sports Writers Association and the Fantasy Sports Trade Association. Brad also has won more individual FSWA awards than any analyst in the industry; among his 14 nominations are two Football Writer of the Year Awards (in 2012 and 2015) and five College Sports Writer of the Year Awards (between 2009 and 2014). He was inducted into the Fantasy Sports Writers Association Hall of Fame in 2018.

Brad has provided his expertise on NBC Sports Network's "Pro Football Talk" and "Fantasy Football Live," NBC's "Football Night in America," The YES Network, The Weather Channel, Comcast SportsNet, Fox Sports Radio, Yahoo Sports Radio, and the syndicated "The Dan Patrick Show." He is creator and co-host of "The Fantasy Football Hour" on Altitude TV, which earned "Best Video" nominations in its first three seasons and has aired in over 90 million households nationwide. The lead analyst on Yahoo's "Tourney Bracket Live" video studio show every March, Brad has been the most accurate macrosite bracket predictor for three years running, besting the likes of ESPN's Joe Lunardi and CBS's Jerry Palm.

After attending Parkland College from 1996 to 1999, Brad earned his BA in History from the University of Illinois and his Masters in Geological and Earth Sciences from Mississippi State University. Prior to becoming a sports columnist and personality, he taught social studies, weather, psychology, and health classes for six years at the READY program in Champaign, an alternative school for high school students. An ardent supporter of free, public education, Brad donates yearly to local public schools in the Greater Denver Area, primarily assisting children in need of basic school supplies, and he volunteers at a local elementary school in Littleton, Colorado.

Honorary Associate Degree Recipient

LINDEN ALAN WARFEL

Agriculture/Education Leader and Former Parkland College Trustee

A longtime advocate for positive change in Champaign County and beyond, Lin Warfel has provided visionary leadership and dynamic service in education and agriculture, generating noteworthy achievements in both fields. He was educated in Unit 7 Schools, at Wabash College in Indiana, and at the University of Illinois, majoring in agricultural economics. After college, Lin served six years in the United States Air Force as an aeromedical evacuation specialist, attaining the rank of staff sergeant. He still tends the Centennial Farm that his great grandparents established in Tolono in 1882. In his early years, Lin adopted the ideal “Invest yourself, in people, and in things eternal,” and his life’s work emulates this ideal.

Lin served on the Unit 7 Board of Education for 10 years, two of them as chair, and was a member of the steering committee and first board for the formation of Community Christian School, which eventually became Judah Christian School in Champaign. Elected to the Parkland College Board of Trustees in 1991, he guided the college for 24 years, holding the roles of board secretary, vice chairman, and chairman. He helped Parkland expand its enrollment and facilities during this time, including construction of the D wing, Tony Noel Agricultural Technology Applications Center, Parkhill Applied Technology Center, and Student Union, along with a major remodeling of the main campus. On the state level, Lin has advocated tirelessly for community colleges. He is a lifetime and award-winning member of the Illinois Community College Trustees Association, serving on its Education, Finance, and Minority Affairs committees and holding positions of secretary, vice president, and president. He also served on the Illinois Community College Board’s Financial Advisory, Formula Change Advisory, and Leadership and Core Values committees. Today, he serves on the Governor’s Pre-school through University Advisory Council.

Within the area’s farming community, Lin’s influential leadership has led to numerous awards. He has worked with the Champaign County Farm Bureau and the Illinois Farm Bureau since 1968, supplying governance for both. For 18 years, he served as commissioner for the Two Mile Slough, a southwest Champaign County drainage district covering 33,000 acres. He was chosen by the News-Gazette as the Farm Leader of the Year for 1989 and as one of its “70 over 70” Honorees for 2019. His community service also includes membership with the Tolono Village Board, the Tolono Lion’s Club, and since 1979, the Champaign Rotary. He is currently an active member of Stratford Park Bible Chapel in Champaign.

In addition to being active in education, farming, and the community, Lin is a published poet and family man. In 2012, The News-Gazette published “Song of the Prairie,” a collection of 70 of his poems. He and his wife, Constance June (Kay) Warfel, have enjoyed 56 years of marriage and have five children and six grandchildren.
