Student Organization Manual

This manual serves as a resource for the members, officers, and advisors of Recognized Student Organizations (RSOs). This manual is intended to serve as a guide to general policies and procedures that impact student organizations. All forms referenced in this book can be found in the appendices and are bolded throughout the contents of this manual.

There are many variables, which make each group and situation unique, issues may arise throughout the course of the year that are not addressed in this manual. At first, it may seem overwhelming to manage a student organization. This handbook is your guide to running a successful organization. Whether you are an organization member needing to make copies of a flier, or the president of your organization planning an executive board retreat, this handbook and Student Life are your resources. If you cannot find information or need clarification, please contact the Activities Program Manager. Parkland College reserves the right to make changes to this manual without prior notice. Please note that at times we find it necessary to update policy or procedure. If that occurs, all Recognized Student Organizations will be notified.

We look forward to serving you! Please stop by Student Life to learn more about the support services, resources, materials, and student development opportunities available to your RSO.

Section II: Becoming a Recognized Student Organization

Recognized Student Organizations Purpose

Student Organizations are one of the best ways to build supportive communities on campus. Student Organizations are designed to afford students with experiences that have educational value for them as individuals, in their social relationships, and in the exercise of their responsibilities as citizens.

These organizations are considered to be the workshop in which many classroom concepts are put into practice. Student Organizations enrich the cultural, recreational, and co-curricular dimensions of Parkland College. Student Organizations help students find a place to belong, support their academic pursuits, and provide opportunities for leadership experience and personal growth.

Benefits of Recognized Student Organizations

- Membership solicitation on campus.
- Use of College facilities and equipment as approved.
- Raising funds on campus for an identified educational purpose to benefit the organization.
- Meetings and social functions on campus.
- Use of College printing facilities, mail services, and accounting services for organization needs.
- Publicizing activities on campus.
- Participating in College events and activities.
- Opportunity to request funds from Student Programming Board in order to attend educational conferences and/or plan an educational, social, or civic campus-wide event for the student body.

Membership

Membership in a recognized student organization shall be open to all Parkland College students, faculty, and staff who meet the stated qualifications of that organization. Officers of student organizations must be currently enrolled Parkland College students (defined as 3+ credit hours). All students having an interest in such activities shall have the opportunity to participate accordingly. The college prohibits all forms of discrimination and harassment, including those that violate federal and state law, or college policy. It will not discriminate on the basis of sex/gender, race, color, age, creed, national or ethnic origin, physical or mental disability, veteran status, pregnancy status, religion, genetic information, gender identity/expression or sexual orientation in its employment practices or educational programs and activities.

Student Organization Categories

Academic/Pre-Professional: Academic/Pre-Professional organizations are student organizations that are associated with Parkland academic programs and departments, honor societies, or other national organizations.

Multi-Cultural: Multi-cultural organizations are student organizations that are founded around a certain culture, identity, or belief.

Recreational: Recreational Organizations are student organizations that are based around a common interest or activity.

How to Start a Student Organization

Student Organizations (RSOs) at Parkland College must support the mission of the College and meet a need currently not being met by an existing organization. The existing student organizations are listed on the Parkland College website. You may find there is already a group on campus doing exactly what you want to do. It is often more effective to combine forces than duplicate efforts, which can create competition for human and financial resources as well as membership.

If, however, there is not an existing organization, and the organization you are proposing to start supports the mission of the College, then we encourage you to follow the steps below.

In order to start a new organization:

- Pick up an Application for Recognition and Renewal from Student Life.
- Select an Advisor(s) for your organization. They must be a currently employed staff or faculty member (part-time or full-time) of Parkland College.
- Find a minimum of 6 students who are interested in joining the organization.
- Draft a constitution. There is a Sample Constitution in the appendix of this manual.
- Turn in your completed Application for Recognition and Renewal to the Activities Program Manager.
- The Student Government Association and the Dean of Students will review the Application for Recognition and Renewal and determine if your organization will become officially recognized. You will be notified regarding your proposed RSO's approval.
- Once your RSO is approved, then you should proceed to the next step.
- Meet with the Activities Program Manager and your Advisor to discuss policies and best practices for RSOs. You will receive a copy of Student Life Manual, your RSO budget line, and other forms necessary to effectively organize an RSO.
- Hold an organizational meeting to approve the constitution and formally elect officers.

At first, the process to form a new student organization may seem overwhelming, but our office is here as a resource to help you. If you need assistance with any of these steps, contact the Activities Program Manager.

Maintaining Recognition

For an organization to maintain its recognition, the group must:

- Submit the Planning Document and updated Application for Recognition and Renewal form at the beginning of each academic year.
- If your constitution has not been reviewed/updated in more than three years, your organization will need to submit an updated copy which includes the date reviewed and any updates needed. Failure to return these forms by the specified date may result in the organization being blocked from continuing organization business.
- Submit the required Results Form.

For an organization to remain active and in good standing the organization must:

- Have a President and Treasurer, who attend treasurer training annually. If there is a change of officers during an academic year, this training needs to be completed by the new officers.
- Have Parkland College Faculty or Staff advisor who attends the annual Student Life advisor training.
- Submit a completed Planning Document and updated Application for Recognition and Renewal once per academic year.
- Meet with the Activities Program Manager once per semester.
- Submit a completed Results Form at the end of every academic year.

Revocation of Recognition

A group's recognition may be revoked for any of the following reasons:

- Inactive for two years.
- Violations of Parkland College policies, state, national, or local law.
- Non-compliance with any and all rules set forth in this manual.
- Disciplinary action; student organizations are subject to disciplinary actions as explained in the Student Code of Conduct.
- Noncompliance with organization registration procedures and constitution requirements.
- Falsification of any registration information.
- Misuse of funds, overextension of organization funds, or misuse of requested funds received from Student Life.

When a student organization fails to meet the expectations set forth in this manual, they may be in jeopardy of losing their recognition. When this occurs, Student Life will work with the organization's student leadership and Parkland College advisor to develop a plan intended to help the organization meet their obligations to remain in active standing.

When an organization fails to meet its obligation:

- The organization's advisor and leadership will be notified of errors.
- Student Life will work with the advisor and organization leadership to develop a plan to correct issues.
- Subsequent errors may lead to penalty up to and including probation or revocation of recognition.

Final decision to revoke a student organization's recognition will be made by the Director of Student Life, Dean of Students and VP for Student Services.

If an organization's recognition has been revoked, the group must first correct behavior or actions that resulted in the loss of recognition and then reapply for recognition following all procedures and regulations outlined in this manual. If an RSO's recognition is revoked, organizational funds will no longer be available.

Role of the Official Student Organization Advisor

Student organizations are required per Parkland College policy 8.17.01 to have an approved advisor, either a full-time or part-time faculty or staff member of Parkland College who provides support and guidance to officers and members. The primary function of this role is to actively advise, counsel, and serve as a resource person and assist the students in achieving a degree of mature thinking and considered action that will strengthen the organization and help it to fulfill its objectives.

The advisor serves as a representative of the group in an official capacity and as a student advocate. An advisor is one who gives ideas, shares insight, provides a different perspective, and encourages organization members.

Student Life serves as a resource for any questions, concerns, or comments that you as a student organization advisor may have regarding your organization. We are happy to assist you in your role as an advisor.

Advising a student organization can be a very rewarding experience. Working with students outside of the classroom allows faculty and staff to share information and resources and encourage leadership and skills development. These attributes are invaluable to students when they leave Parkland College.

Responsibility to the Student Organization

Every student organization is required to have a full-time or part-time faculty or staff member of Parkland College serving as an advisor. Locating and asking a faculty or academic staff person to be an advisor is the responsibility of the organization. Student Organizations are encouraged to seek out more than one advisor when possible. This allows more flexibility to the organization and eases the additional time commitments on an individual who wishes to support students through an advising role.

The scope of an organization's activities, the effectiveness of its officers, the time commitments of the advisor and several other factors determine the nature of an advisor's involvement with the organization. Organizations should recognize the value of having a good advisor and use that advisor as a resource person. In short, a good advisor plays an essential role in an organization's success.

An advisor's function is fourfold:

- To be a consultant and to help with the organization's growth and development.
- To provide continuity to the organization.
- To act as an authorized and responsible agent of the organization.
- To ensure compliance with all College policies and procedures.

Per the college policy: The Parkland College employee who serves as the club or organization advisor shall be present whenever the organization does the following:

- a. Conducts an election of officers.
- b. Conducts a meeting at which a guest of the College will speak.
- c. Conducts any activity which is considered an official organizational function. Functions are considered official when organization or College funds are used in any way sponsoring the event; when the activity is planned as a scheduled meeting either on or off campus; or when the activity is held under the name of the organization, and all members are extended either a written or an oral invitation.

Choose your advisor well. Discuss with your organization and with your advisor what you want the advisor's role to be. Take into consideration the advisor has to maintain a liaison role between the organization and Parkland College. An advisor is a consultant and should be a stabilizing source when you need help. It is the advisor's duty to ensure officers are aware of the policies and regulations established for RSOs. Both the advisor and the organization should understand the advisor is there to help the organization, and the advisor is chosen and retained at the organization's discretion. Organizations should realize an advisor has the right to resign. The key role of the advisor is to serve as a resource for the organization. Therefore, it is important to spend time establishing expectations of both parties to develop the best collaborative and supportive relationship.

Students can expect their advisor to:

- Assist the group in developing realistic goals and strategic plans for the academic year. This will contribute to the education and personal development of the students involved. The advisor must take an active role, rendering advice and counsel as circumstances dictate.
- Act as a liaison to other Parkland student organizations, departments, and programs. The Advisor is key in helping students collaborate with other groups, broaden networks, and share resources.
- Be aware of all plans and activities of the group and inform the group of institutional policies that may affect these plans. The advisor should see that the group and its officers know where policies are listed, what the policies are, why they exist, and the channels to be followed for changes, revisions, or exceptions to policies. Advisors should also participate in the planning/review of each activity.
- Be available to organization officers/members and regularly meet with the organization. Being visible is one key aspect of being an advisor. When members feel like they can talk to their advisor about issues within the organization or other things that are bothering them, an organization will be better off.
- Encourage less involved students to take initiative. Eager leaders often provide strong leadership more often than necessary. This can lead to resentment by some or pressure others into silencing themselves. The advisor can help provide a balance by pointing out such concerns in a one-on-one setting with the students or the organization leadership.
- Provide continuity within the group and be familiar with the group's history and constitution. Membership turnover in student organizations is high and often the only link with the immediate past is the advisor. Serving as the group's memory and continuity link, the advisor can help new officers build on history and develop long-term plans for the future of the organization.
- Offer ideas for projects and events. The advisor will perform his/her greatest service by providing opportunities for the students to exercise initiative and judgment and to enjoy a proper measure of autonomy in self-directed social, educational, recreational, and cultural activities. Advisors should not dominate the program planning process. However, advisors should ensure that the group understands a program's complexity and has discussed the necessary steps in order for the program to be successful. The advisor should remember that it is the task of the active members to operate the organization.
- Assist the group in evaluation. This includes evaluating individual programs as well as doing a complete evaluation at the end of the academic year. The advisor must be willing to give constructive criticism when necessary and offer words of praise for work well done.

- Sign documentation that requires an advisor's approval, such as requisitions.
- Must be present at scheduled meetings and official social functions of the organization from the beginning to the conclusion.
- Assist the treasurer in formulating an annual budget and in maintaining accurate accounting procedures.

Responsibilities of the Organization to the Advisor

The organization has some definite responsibilities to its advisor. The following are guidelines to assist in building a healthy organization/advisor relationship:

- Meet with your advisor at least one day before your meeting to go over the agenda and topics to be discussed at the meeting.
- Plan meetings and special functions at a time the Advisor is able to attend.
- Keep the advisor posted on the progress of the organization.
- Your advisor is your primary source of support from the college. The better informed they are about all aspects of the organization, the more effective they will be in supporting your efforts.

Advisors can expect student members to:

- Inform and update them regularly of organizational issues and accomplishments.
- Provide them with meeting minutes.
- Provide them with event information (date, time, and location) and changes.
- Have open and honest communication.
- Have mutual respect.
- Be committed to the organization.
- Establish written goals and objectives for the semester.
- Maintain accurate record keeping.
- Be present at all programs and meetings.
- Be committed to a smooth officer transition between each semester and each year.
- Thank them for a job well done. Advisors should be shown appreciation and respect for the work they do on behalf of the group.

In most instances, advisors are graciously volunteering their time to serve the organization and promote student development. It is important to spend time establishing expectations of both parties to develop the best collaborative and supportive relationship.

Responsibility to the Individual Group Members

- Help the students find balance between their academics and their co-curricular activities. Student leaders often have the tendency to take on many responsibilities and can overextend themselves. The advisor has a unique opportunity to remind students of their academic obligations and personal needs.

- Encourage each individual to participate in and plan group events. Some students fade into the background if not effectively encouraged. Being a member of a student group can provide students with valuable interpersonal and/or leadership skills, but these will not develop if the student is not involved.
- Encourage students to accept responsibility for specific roles within the group. The advisor should help them realize the importance of these roles. From officer positions to committee members, each student should feel invested in and accountable for their specific role.
- Nominate students for either the Officer of the Year or Member of the Year Award. These awards are an exemplary way to recognize the hard work, commitment, and success of students.

Responsibility to Parkland College

- Act as Parkland College's representative to the Student Organization. The Advisor must be active and involved in the student organization to ensure it follows Parkland College policies and local, state, and federal law. The Advisor must be present when the student organization elects officers, hosts a guest of the College, and conducts any official function including meetings, social events, and travel.
- Attend Parkland College's Student Life sponsored training activities. Although some advisors have been an advisor before, it's important that advisors attend all training sessions created for them. New things happen in Student Life, and we want to keep advisors as up to date as possible.
- Federal law identifies all student organization advisors as a "Campus Security Authority" through the Clery Act. Public Safety will provide annual training to advisors on the responsibilities and duties of a "Campus Security Authority".
- Work with the group, but not direct its activities. Although the advisor's role is not regulatory or disciplinary, the advisor has a responsibility to both the institution and the organization to keep their best interests in mind. At times, the advisor may need to remind the organization of institutional policies. The advisor may also work with the organization's officers to establish and maintain internal group standards and regulations.
- Serve as a point of contact between a student organization and Student Life. An Advisor needs to remain in communication with Student Life to ensure that student organizations are fully informed of upcoming events, deadlines, and requirements.
- Help during an emergency. Although this type of intervention is rarely necessary, the advisor's good judgment can be the saving grace in the event of mishaps, internal conflict, or personal crisis. Assisting the organization's President as a spokesperson or serving as the main contact for the College can help in these cases.

Advising Tips

The following is adapted from University of South Florida's Advisor Handbook.

Every student organization will differ and may require a different approach by the advisor. The following information can serve as a starting point.

1. In the beginning of the advising relationship, agree on clear expectations about the role of the advisor and the role of the student organization. Discuss philosophies and reach a consensus.
2. Read the constitution of the group, get to know the members, attend events, and generally

- make yourself seen so that they know who you are.
3. Assist in the establishment of responsibilities for each officer and member.
  4. Develop a strong relationship with the president or chairperson and other officers. This is key because these students will be your main contact with the group.
  5. Remember: praise in public, criticize in private. Discuss concerns with an officer's performance in a one-on-one setting. Whenever someone does something extremely well, be sure to let others know.
  6. Maintain a sense of humor
  7. Be honest and open with all communication. The students need to feel that you are just in our dealings with them.
  8. Realize that you have the power of persuasion, but use this judiciously. The students sometimes need to learn how to fail.
  9. Help them see alternatives and provide an outside perspective.
  10. Find a balance between being the strict naysayer and the laissez-faire friend. The students must feel that you are supportive of them and yet that you will hold them accountable.

Advising Expectations

Given the myriad of purposes, activities, and objectives of various student groups, the role of the advisor will vary in some degree between groups. As groups vary in their expectations and needs, it is important that you, as an advisor, develop an understanding with the organization you are to represent as to the nature of your involvement. The advisor and the group should agree on a set of expectations of one another from the onset.

Some Initial Questions You May Want to Ask the Organization:

1. How much involvement is expected or needed?
2. How often does the group meet?
3. How many major activities does the group plan per semester?
4. How experienced are the student leaders?
5. How do your skills match the needs of the organization?
6. What are some of the problem areas that your organization specifically needs advisory assistance in dealing with? Ask for past examples.
7. What are some of the ways the advisor can be more helpful to the group?
8. Will the advisor be a silent observer at meetings or an active participant?
9. Should you interrupt during meetings if you think the group is getting off track? How? When?
10. If things get unruly, should you interrupt or remain silent?
11. Is the advisor expected to give feedback? How? When?
12. Are there areas of the organization that are "hands off" to the advisor?
13. Does the national organization (if applicable) require an affiliated advisor? If so, what is their role?

Officer Transition

One of the most important functions of an advisor is to assist in the transition from one set of organization officers to the next. As the stability of the organization, the advisor has seen changes, knows what works and can help maintain continuity. Investing time in a good officer transition early on will mean less time spent throughout the year nursing new officers through the semester. The key to a successful transition is making sure new officers know their jobs BEFORE they take office. Expectations should be clearly defined. There are a number of ways to conduct the officer transition. The following examples demonstrate two commonly used methods.

The Team Effort

The team effort involves the outgoing-officer board, the advisor, and the incoming officer board. This method involves a retreat or series of meetings where outgoing officers work with incoming officers on:

- Past records/notebooks for their office and updating those together.
- Discussion topics should include:
  - Completed projects for the past year
  - Upcoming/incomplete projects
  - Challenges and setbacks
- Anything the new officers need to know to do their job effectively

The advisor's role may be to:

- Facilitate discussion and be a sounding board for ideas.
- Organize and provide the structure of a retreat.
- Offer suggestions on various questions.
- Refrain from telling new officers what they should do.
- Fill in the blanks.

If an outgoing officer is unaware of how something was done, or does not have records to pass on to the new officer, you can help that officer by providing the information they may need.

The structure of a team effort retreat can take many forms. The advisor's role in this process is to provide historical background when needed; help keep goals specific, attainable, and measurable; and provide advice on policies and procedures.

One-on-One Training & Advisor with Officers

While it is ideal to have the outgoing officer team assist in training the incoming officers, often it is left up to the advisor to educate the incoming officers. In that situation, there should be a joint meeting of the new officers. After that meeting, the advisor should meet individually with each officer and examine the notebook of the previous officer (or create a new one). Things to include in a new notebook:

- Any forms the officers may need to use.
- Copies of previous meeting agendas.
- A copy of the organization's constitution and bylaws.

Talk about what the officers hope to accomplish in the forthcoming year. Assess the officer's role in the organization. What are the expectations of each position? What are the student's expectations of the position and his/her goals?

Liability and Risk Management

As an advisor of a student organization, you are the College's representative regarding the organization's activities. As such, you are expected to give reasonable and sound advice to your organization about such things as programs, use of facilities, and operational procedures. If you have reason to question an action taken by the organization, express your concern directly to the organization in writing, including the date, a suggested alternative to the questionable action, a warning, etc.

The risk of liability can be limited through taking appropriate measures, knowing and abiding by regulations, and using common sense. If you are confronted by a situation that you feel may be risky, please do not hesitate to contact Student Life and ask.

Here are a few things that your organization can do to identify and reduce risk:

- A. Identify specific risks involved in the event. These could include physical risks (such as an event with physical activity) and liability risks (such as events involving alcohol, minors, or travel).
- B. Identify options for reducing risks including, but not limited to:
- C. Assess the capability of the group to manage risk.
- D. Identify the challenges in managing risk, as well as resources to assist in your planning.
- E. Develop a plan of action in reducing risk.
- F. Communicate with everyone involved (officers, members, advisors, participants, facilities staff, etc.)
- G. Be aware of/have access to Parkland College's policies and procedures involving student organizations.

Section III: Organizational Operating Procedures

Student Organization Financial Policies and Procedures

Allocations

Each student organization receives a small annual allocation per academic year after completing the necessary advisor and treasurer trainings and supplying Student Life with all required paperwork. Additional funds can be obtained through RSO fund-raising activities as well as applying to the Student Programming Board for funding of RSO activities.

Student organizations are encouraged to plan organizational activities in advance, know their budget needs in order to conduct the annual business and activities of the organization and make requests for funding their activities through the Student Programming Board as detailed below.

Student Programming Board

The Student Programming Board is comprised of six members: three representatives from Student Government Association (SGA) and three from Student organizations with equal voting powers. These students will serve for an entire Academic year. The Student Programming Board's main purpose is to allocate financial resources to RSOs for programs, events, and trips.

To request funds RSOs must submit a funding request to the Programming Board a minimum of two weeks prior to the Programming board meeting. The funding request will include the amount requested, a budget, name of the organization requesting funds, a point of contact, an advisor's signature, and a statement of how students will benefit from this event. The Student Programming board will meet in September, October, November, January, February, and March.

Student Organizations are asked to send student representatives to present their proposal to the Student Programming Board. This gives them a chance to make a formal presentation, show the importance of the proposal and answer any questions the Student Programming Board may have. We encourage advisors to help assist student organization leaders in the planning and preparation of the proposal, however only students will be allowed to present to the Student Programming Board.

The board has authority to fully fund the proposal, partially fund the proposal, conditionally fund the proposal, or deny the proposal. The Student Programming Board receives an annual allocation and intends to distribute all of these funds to support RSO events, programs, and travel. The board can also request more information from the RSO to make its decision. Student Organizations should allocate enough time to make event/travel arrangements and secure additional funding after receiving final decision from the Student Programming Board.

Funding priority will be given to requests that meet the following criteria:

- Submitted many months before the event (demonstrate pre-planning)
- Collaboration with other student groups or academic departments
- Demonstrate a significant benefit to Parkland College students

Funding Requests

Recognized Student Organizations wishing to request funds from Student Life through the Student Programming Board must complete a Request for Program and Travel Funds form accompanied by an up to date Financial Transaction Log.

These forms and budgets should be submitted to the Activities Program Manager and are reviewed by the Student Programming Board. Organizations are notified if their petition has been approved and the amount of funding awarded.

Funded program and funded travel must provide the student body with educational, cultural, entertainment, or recreational programming which uses funds consistent with the educational goals and purposes of the institution and has a significant impact upon and appeal to the student body. The amount of money awarded will vary from year to year as the College budget changes.

Organizations who are allocated funds may not use those funds for:

- Financial support for political programs, parties, individual political candidates, or direct lobbying efforts.

Student Organization Account

Each Student Organization has a budget line dedicated to them. This account line will be used when depositing money, reimbursing funds, paying for printing, and for all other organization business. Student organizations cannot open or have any checking, savings, or financial accounts besides the Parkland account line. If you are unsure of your organization's account line number, please contact the Administrative Assistant of Student Life.

In order to access student organization accounts the organization must have completed advisor and treasurer trainings and be in active status with good standing.

Organization Budget Guidelines

All student organizations are expected to operate within their budget. Each fall the officers and advisors are encouraged to develop a budget for the year. This will allow the group to make plans and commit to any necessary fundraising. Groups are responsible for all bills incurred in their name. All bills should be paid in a timely fashion. Overspending and/or not taking care of bills in an appropriate and prompt manner may be grounds for revocation of the organization's recognition.

Purchasing

All purchases a student organization makes needs to be voted on and approved by the student organization. Funds should be used to promote the organizational mission, help with the growth and development of the organization and their members, and fulfill the student services mission of the college. There are limitations on what can be bought with Student Organization funds and all purchases for Parkland College are tax exempt. If you are unsure if you are allowed to purchase something please contact the Activities Program Manager.

All organization financial transactions need to be recorded on the Financial Transaction Log and will be submitted at the end of the semester. It is important to maintain this log because the amount of funds available may be different the amount of funds in your organizational account due to a delay in processing checks and payments.

Student Organizations can purchase items through one of three ways:

1. Student Life can make a purchase on behalf of a student organization with a Parkland College Purchasing Card (P-Card) with funds from the RSO account line. Requests for this must be received a minimum of two business days in advance.
2. Student Organizations can submit a Check Requisition for Parkland College to issue a check with funds from their account line (see appendix for details for how to fill out a check requisition)
3. Student /Advisor purchases it out of pocket and is then reimbursed from the Student Organization account line. This will again require a Check Requisition to be submitted to Student Life.

Treasurer Training

Treasurer Trainings are offered multiple times at the beginning of the fall and spring semesters. These trainings cover how to fill out a check requisition, what can and cannot be purchased, mandated reporting for financial transactions, and information about your student organization account. Student Organizations must attend Treasurer Trainings to remain active and in good standing. All organizations are required to send their treasurer to this training annually in the fall and are encouraged to attend additional treasurer trainings throughout the year to refresh their knowledge of financial policies for organizations. If your organization's treasurer leaves the organization or a new person becomes the treasurer, contact the Administrative Assistant for Student Life to schedule an individual training.

Fundraising Events & Cash Handling Guidelines

The College permits controlled sales campaigns and solicitations on College property by officially Recognized student organizations. Student organizations must request permission and register their fundraising event no less than 10 business days in advance with the Activities Program Manager for Student Life. Approved fundraisers should follow the guidelines below:

- All expenditures for the fundraising event must be done through the organization's Fund 10 account following related and appropriate College policies and procedures for expenditures.
- All deposits must be made to the organization account daily through the Cashiers Office and adhere to all related and appropriate College policies and procedures. If fundraising event extends into evening and/or weekend hours, deposits must be done the following business day.
- Checks must be made out to Parkland College. (The organization name or event name may be noted in the memo.)
- If a third-party vendor is being utilized for the fundraiser, the contract(s) must be submitted to Student Life for review and processing as early as possible, but no less than 15 business days prior to the beginning of the event. Organization members and/or advisors are NOT allowed to sign contracts on behalf of the organization or College.
- No less than 2 organization members (or advisors) must be present when payments of any type are being accepted. Student Life reserves the right to require an advisor (or other pre-approved advisor substitute) be present depending on the location and type of fundraising event.
- If the fundraiser or club activity involves food items, proper food handling guidelines must be followed, up to and including Champaign Urbana Public Health District guidelines.
- All organizations collecting dues, fees, and/or assessments must deposit the collected monies with Student Life within one business day of receiving the funds. The organization will be given a receipt at that time and the money will be deposited through the appropriate office at the College.
- Separate bank accounts for individual organizations may not be maintained.
- All expenditures listed on a Request for Program & Travel Funds Form must be authorized by the organization's advisor and the Activities Program Manager. Funds will not be disbursed without receipts or invoices. This is in compliance with College policy.
- No organizations may charge any mandatory fees for membership other than state or national dues and associated costs.
- All organizations will maintain the highest standards during sale/operation. This includes but is not limited to: accounting, cleanliness, cooperation with the Office of Student Life and other Parkland College Departments.

- Student organizations and advisors must always work through Student Life when dealing with contracts and outside vendors, guest lecturers, performers, etc. All contacts related to Recognized Student Organizations must go through the Director of Student Life.

Donating Funds

Student Organizations are encouraged to be civic minded by engaging with and serving the community. Student Organizations can donate money to support non-profits under specific conditions. When a student organization wishes to make a donation to an external source, the funds must be secured through a fundraiser which clearly states the intent to raise money to be donated and the name of the organization where donations will go. Student Organizations are encouraged to donate to non-profits that serve the 505 District.

Student Life will assist in planning an activity and in arranging services and facilities as necessary. It is important Event and Program Proposal Form are submitted in a timely fashion and must be submitted 10 business days before the event. Submission of this form will also result in your event being promoted through the weekly all student e-mail.

These guidelines are in accordance with College-wide scheduling policies and may be subject to change.

Events in which an organization is contracting with an outside agency, expecting an audience of over 75 participants, or inviting the general community should be planned far in advance to ensure Parkland College departments can accommodate your request.

Student organizations who have scheduled the use of College facilities are expected to use those facilities on the date and time requested. If a student organization will be unable to utilize requested facilities, it is required they notify Student Life at least 24 hours in advance.

Room/Space Reservation

Whenever a Student Organization uses a space at Parkland College they need to reserve the room through 25Live. This will avoid any scheduling conflicts and will publicize your events on Parkland's website. Advisors should submit an online request in 25live at least 10 business days prior to your event. The earlier you submit your request the more flexibility there is to resolve any scheduling conflicts.

Physical Plant Request

Equipment Request

Student Life has a variety of equipment and materials you can request to support your events. This includes but is not limited to plates, silverware, serving utensils, balloons, tablecloths, coolers, whiteboards, and more. # Section V: Travel

Student Organization Travel

Official events are considered those that include all travel outside of District 505 and those in District 505 where student organization funds are utilized, official business is conducted for the student organization, or when the activity/services the student group will participate in are determined (by the Director of Student Life, Dean of Students, and VP for Student Services) to require an advisor presence due to the nature of the activity.

All official events constitute a Parkland College sponsored event, therefore all College policies apply. All students traveling or representing themselves as a Parkland College group, team, etc. are expected to adhere to College policies regarding student conduct. This expectation is to be upheld regardless of the source of funding.

Failure to comply with the travel policies outlined in this manual will lead to immediate revocation of organization recognition by the VP of Student Services.

Student groups are not allowed to travel unless they have received approval from Student Life. Groups traveling without approval from Student Life may have their recognition revoked.

Advisor and student use of alcohol and/or illegal substances is strictly prohibited. “Student” is defined as anyone registered for credit classes at Parkland College, regardless of age. “Advisor” is defined as a Parkland College faculty or staff member who has been approved by Student Life to serve as an advisor to an organization. If a scheduled activity includes travel, advisors are required to accompany the student group. Student groups cannot travel for official events without a Parkland College faculty or staff advisor accompanying them.

All student groups wishing to travel should review the Student Life Group Travel Guidelines found in the following pages. These guidelines outline the steps and necessary documentation that must be completed in order for a student group to receive approval for travel. All students traveling are required to submit a Student Life Group Travel Application requesting permission to travel. Before departure, all release forms and contracts must be turned into Student Life for approval prior to any monies being issued to the student organization. This includes monies from organization accounts (Fund 10) or monies received from Student Life.

Student Organization travel may require additional reporting due to the Clery Act depending on duration, location, or other criteria. Student Organizations will be required to submit the Parkland Overnight Travel Form if their travel includes lodging overnight or the rental of a room or facility for any length of time. For more information about the Clery Act, visit:

<https://www.parkland.edu/Main/About-Parkland/Department-Office-Directory/Public-Safety/Clery-Act-Compliance>

Travel Forms

Assumption of Risk and Release Forms must be signed and dated by all student participants. Minors under the age of 18 must have a parent or legal guardian sign their travel forms. Student Life will provide these forms for your organization. All students traveling must complete these forms prior to departure date: (Samples of each form may be found in the Appendices.)

1. Parkland College Assumption of Risk and Release
2. Off-campus and Overnight Travel Contract
3. Field Trip Form (Must have a copy on file at Public Safety, Student Life & Dean of Students Office)

Group Travel Guidelines

Purpose of Student Life Group Travel Program:

- Traveling advisors must be employees of the College and approved in advance by the Director of Student Life or their designee.
- All students traveling on behalf of the College must be in good standing.

The assigned trip advisor has primary responsibility for developing and executing the travel program in compliance with all Student Life guidelines, Board Policies and Procedures, and state and federal laws. Prior to travel, organizations must submit the Student Life Group Travel Application and all supporting documentation at least three weeks prior to travel.

The Director of Student Life must approve all group travel applications and travel budget prior to any organization travel.

A copy of all forms will be kept in Student Life, the Dean of Students Office and Public Safety.

Transportation

- Parkland College vehicles should be used for student organization travel. Only current Parkland College faculty and staff members are allowed to drive Parkland College vehicles. Students are not approved drivers regardless of age. There is a limited supply of Parkland Vehicles so advanced planning is recommended for reserving vehicles.
- Parkland College vehicles transport up to five adults. These vehicles are used at no cost to the organization and Parkland College Public Safety will supply a gas card for travel.
- Parkland College Buses have the ability to transport larger groups. The 15-passenger vans may be driven by Parkland College faculty and staff. The group will be charged the current federal mileage reimbursement rate. Check with Public Safety for the most current reimbursement rate.
- Parkland College also has 24 and 34 passenger busses which require a Parkland College faculty or staff driver with a Commercial Driver's License (CDL). The student organization is required to pay the driver (arranged through Human Resources), the Parkland mileage reimbursement rate, and provide the driver with directions to the travel destination, provide the driver's meals and hotel accommodations (if applicable).
- Required drivers do not constitute an "approved advisor".
- All Student Organization Travel should originate at Parkland College.
- In rare instances students may need to request exceptions to the above-mentioned transportation options. Travel exceptions must be requested using the Travel

Exception form and must be approved by the Dean of Students or VP for Student Services.

- If a Parkland College vehicle is not available, a Student Organization can rent a vehicle. It is preferred that Student Organizations work with the Activities Program Manager to make these reservations through the college corporate account. The cost of vehicle rental will be charged to the student organization account.
- Payment of any ticket issued to the driver of a College vehicle is the responsibility of the driver.
- Report any accidents or damage to vehicles to Public Safety, Director of Student Life and Dean of Students immediately upon occurrence.
- While traveling a Student Organization should prioritize the use a Parkland College vehicle, rented vehicle, or public transportation.

Compliance with Board policies/procedures and legal mandates:

- Trip advisors will ensure participants are informed about related Board policies and procedures and Federal and State laws pertinent to their individual responsibilities.
- Trip advisors and participants must conduct themselves in a professional manner in accordance with all applicable federal and state laws, as well as Board policies and procedures.

Access and Participation

Students or participants involved in Student Life group travel must be a member of a Parkland College organization and be a currently enrolled Parkland College student.

Individuals may be denied participation in a program if their participation is deemed dangerous to the applicant or the other participants. Trip advisors are to inform Student Life in advance when a student's behavior or other circumstances warrant denial of participation in a Student Life group travel program.

Trip advisors need to document special student needs and agreed-upon accommodations and submit a copy to Student Life.

Minors under the age of 18 must have a parent or legal guardian sign their Conditions of participation form.

Emergency Situations

The trip advisor is to submit a written incident report of all emergency situations, participant's dismissals, or other unique incidents, as soon as possible to Student Life. If necessary, reports may be emailed or faxed.

In case of an emergency evacuation, missing participants or in case of repatriation (death of participant), contact the local police. As soon as the group is secure contact Public Safety, Director of Student Life, and the Dean of Students.

Program Cancellation

Student Life group travel may be cancelled due to acts of God and other unforeseen events.

The VP of Student Services, Dean of Students and/or Public Safety will authorize cancellation of a travel program.

Fiscal Accountability

Student Life group travel budgets must be approved in advance by Student Life. Trip advisors must provide required receipts and other documentation for expense reporting.

Responsibilities of Traveling Advisor

- Advisors are required to accompany the student group in all official travel and in all activities scheduled once the destination is reached. In rare circumstances a Parkland College faculty or staff member other than the approved advisor may travel with an organization with the approval of the VP of Student Services. In such circumstances, the acting advisor is held to the same expectations as an advisor.
- All advisors travelling with the Student Organization must have attended the annual Campus Security Authority (CSA) Training led by Public Safety.
- If an approved Parkland College faculty or staff member is not able to accompany the student group then the organization is not allowed to travel, regardless of the source of funding.
- The advisor must attend all official off-campus activities or conferences, and is expected to travel with the student group. The College suggests the ratio be a minimum of one advisor per ten (10) students.
- In case of a medical emergency, the advisor shall notify 9-1-1 (or equivalent immediately). The advisor should accompany the student to the hospital emergency room if at all possible.
- A copy of each students' emergency contact information shall be kept with the advisor at all times during the course of the trip. A copy of all required travel forms should remain in the Student Life Office in the travel folder.
- The advisor can instill a curfew or other rule(s) to be attended to by all students participating in the excursion/event for all official Parkland College travel.
- Advisors are strictly prohibited from using alcohol and/or illegal substances while traveling with students.
- Should a student be found with alcohol and/or illegal drugs, the advisor should contact/notify the Dean of Students and local authorities. Consequences and/or punishment could include anything from possible banishment from the activity to criminal charges. This is a student conduct code violation which should be discussed with the Dean of Students as soon as possible.

Responsibilities of Traveling Students

- It is the student's responsibility to provide complete information to family members and to provide a telephone number where they can be reached in case of emergency.
- It is advised students should not participate in a special activity or an excursion if their grades are in question.
- Students must remember at all times they are representing Parkland College. They are expected to behave with decorum and respect other students, conference attendees, hotel guests, etc.
- If the College is paying for travel expenses, students are expected to participate in all seminars, lectures, presentations, or any other activities for which the purpose of the event or excursion is intended. Failure to do so could subject the student to disciplinary measures as determined appropriate by the faculty advisor or Dean of Students.

- Once a student commits to attending an event or excursion, they can withdraw only with a reasonable excuse approved by the advisor. An unexcused absence could result in the student reimbursing Parkland College for his/her cost of the trip.
- Upon arriving at the destination, students are not allowed to leave the premises without prior approval from the advisor.
- When traveling as part of a Parkland College excursion, students are not allowed overnight guests. In addition, roommate assignments are final and cannot be changed without advisor approval.
- No student may consume alcohol and/or use illegal substances, regardless of age.
- If a student be found with illegal drugs, the advisor should contact/notify local authorities. Consequences and/or punishment could include anything from possible banishment from the activity to criminal charges. This is a student conduct code violation which should be discussed with the Dean of Students as soon as possible.

Failure to uphold the aforementioned guidelines, policies, and/or procedures may cause a traveler to be sent home immediately from the event or excursion at the travelers own expense. The action may be reviewed and, depending upon the severity of the offense, the traveler may be removed from office or membership by the organization, by the Director of Student Life or Dean of Students.
